"The Temple With A Heart"

"If you save a soul, it is as if you have saved a world!" BT Sanhedrin 17a

I have been asked to talk about our 60 year history and traditions in my columns. We at Temple Beth Emet have been saving lives since our congregation started by bringing canned goods to High Holy Day Services, then with toys for children and yarn for the Veterans throughout the year. But, a recent episode of giving struck my heart and I hope it will yours.

Sometimes our services begin late because we don't have a minyan or because the table is not set to the high standards of the Sisterhood and the Oneg Shabbat committee, and sometimes because our people are just talking amongst themselves.

Such was the case the other Friday night when I was sharing with Robyn the need to do a mitzvah. It was and is the most important of all the Mitzvoth, "Pikuach Nefesh" (saving a life). One of my actors from the Battle for the Warsaw Ghetto is quite ill and needs blood donations. Another member of our congregation heard us talking and the need specifically for O+ blood and she immediately came up to me to volunteer and go to Children's Hospital to donate. To complete the story we went on Shabbat afternoon, were the last ones to give blood and then visited with our young actor friend. Oh yes, Pikuach Nefesh takes precedent over Everything.

Now, if you can give blood, the rule is you may donate only every two months, please do so. Children's Hospital is a great place to go but there are many other locations, American Red Cross being the other place I have donated. I propose that we arrange to send a group of us every two months to donate blood. We could car pool at the Temple and then go to Children's Hospital. And while we are there we could arrange with the Chaplain's office to visit with some children. What do you say? Just let the office know and we can go!

Truly, the concept of saving a life is not limited to the physical person only! When we went to visit the patient for whom we donated the blood, we were also doing Pikuach Nefesh. The Soul and the Body work together. We can save lives by helping the Neshama to heal. We can save lives by visiting those in the hospital, at their home or even by just picking up the phone and calling them. Rabbi Harold Kushner talks about people looking for G-d and overlooking the Godliness of the person spending time sitting, sharing, laughing and even crying with you. The person we care about according to the Talmud, is a world unto themselves. Surely, there is a topic we can talk about and share with the person we love. Remember, we are told to love uniquely, from our uniqueness to their uniqueness.

One thing, however, and it is difficult to do, please refrain from talking about the person's illness. The person knows they are sick, don't remind them. Instead talk about everyday life almost as if there was no disease to talk about.

I learned this from a Monsignor friend of mine. He sat with a terminally ill person for one hour and all they talked about was family, friends and the English drama, Upstairs, Downstairs. It was fascinating! Especially because they were both Irish! Ha,Ha!

ALSO, use as much humor as you can. The cliché is true, "Laughter is the best medicine for an injured soul". And, saving the Neshomah is as important as saving the body.

There is a beautiful prayer that translates as, "G-d, the Neshama, (soul) you have given me, it is pure!"

As we do Pikuach Nefesh with those we care about, we are helping to make their souls and their bodies pure!

B'ahava and Refuah,

Rabbi Mark

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE – July 2018

“We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights,”

Do we really believe that we are all created equal and that we are all endowed by God with certain unalienable rights? Assuming we do, are we being faithful to that belief? In recent weeks, we have seen children separated from their parents at our border. As of this writing, some 2,000 children have been removed from their mothers and fathers and placed in haphazard detention centers. The children and their parents have done nothing wrong other than seek a better life in a country that is a beacon of freedom and opportunity. Many of these families are entering the United States in violation of immigration law, but some are legitimately seeking asylum. None are afforded any sort of hearing or due process before the families are divided.

It is difficult to imagine the trauma and anguish experienced by these children of all ages as they are ripped away from their parents and placed in a strange facility in a strange land by strangers. It is also difficult to imagine the trauma and anguish experienced by parents, who have their children taken away from them to go who knows where for who knows how long, with no certainty they will even be reunited. The Attorney General of the United States justifies this policy with reference to the (Christian) Bible. “I would cite you to the Apostle Paul and his clear and wise command in Romans 13 to obey the laws of the government because God has ordained them for the purpose of order.” But as Shakespeare wrote, “The devil can cite Scripture for his purpose. An evil soul producing holy witness is like a villain with a smiling cheek, a goodly apple rotten at the heart.”

The Bible, however, also admonishes us in Exodus 23:9, “You shall not oppress a stranger, since you yourselves know the feelings of a stranger, for you also were strangers in the land of Egypt.” Again, in Leviticus 19:33-34, “When a stranger resides with you in your land, you shall not do him wrong. The stranger who resides with you shall be to you as the native among you, and you shall love him as yourself, for you were aliens in the land of Egypt; I am the Lord your God.” Over and over again, in Torah and later writings, we are admonished not only to refrain from harming the stranger, but to embrace them. There are those who will say, “But they are breaking the law!” I would remind them that the immigration laws of the United States are circumstantial, and are often based on ignorance and bigotry. Witness the Chinese Exclusion laws of 1882. Remember the quotas during World War II that shut the door to Jews seeking to escape the Holocaust. Understand the words of Emma Lazerus, “Give me your tired, your poor, Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free, The wretched refuse of your teeming shore. Send these, the homeless, tempest-tost to me, I lift my lamp beside the golden door!”

A Jewish immigrant from Russia, Irving Berlin, wrote the song “God Bless America.” The song is much loved and the words “God Bless America” have become a traditional and expected part of any closing to a speech by any politician. As we celebrate Independence Day, may we be reminded that if we expect God to continue to bless America, America must be worthy of that blessing in our actions and attitudes. And taking children away from parents and parents away from children, all in the name of the law, does not demonstrate that.

-- IRA L. GOLDSTEIN, President

Help Us Keep Growing

This year marks the 60th Year Anniversary of Temple Beth Emet of Burbank!

As we prepare for our upcoming anniversary celebration, we are busy with both improving and updating the Temple. While attendance for both our Religious School and newly opened Preschool have been thriving, we find ourselves having to deal with many building maintenance issues, due to heavy winds and rain of this past season.

In order to keep up with the growth of our schools, we truly need more funding to complete our learning environments in a way that accommodates and welcomes our surrounding community. The following projects are currently in the works but we need your help to complete them.

Projects in process:

- The building & stocking of our third classroom
- Refurbishing Blum Hall, our main gathering center
- Water fountains for our children
- Additional play equipment for the schools
- Repaving of our parking lot
- New ceiling tiles throughout due to water damage.

Our goal is to raise $18,000 to achieve all of the improvements necessary to continue to provide a safe, quality, positive learning environment for our children, as well as our members of our congregation. The children are what makes this Temple special and it is our hope to provide them with the most positive experience possible. We chose the figure $18,000 to represent "Chai" which is the Hebrew word for "Life." Donations can be made via check or by going to our Temple Beth Emet – Face Book page & clicking on the link below:

We thank you in advance for your help and look forward to seeing you at our 60th Year Celebration later this year!

Shalom,

Do You Have a Son and/or Daughter In College?

Temple Beth Emet has started a program to connect with our students attending a College. We would like to help them to continue their Jewish way of life and offer them additional support. This way, they will always have an open line of communication with our Rabbi, should they have questions or need direction; and we will remind them of their link to Israel and to keep connected to the Jewish Community. After college, we hope to have them join our Temple, as an adult.

Please send an e-mail and give me the following information:

The name of the Student;

Class Level;

Address;

Name of the University, and;

If the Student is a member of any organization or club on campus.

The Temple will send a care-package for each holiday, as a gift to the Student with a calendar of events at the Temple for each month. The Student will be invited to all events sponsored by the Temple. We would like to encourage the Student to return to the Temple as often as they wish; as the Temple would like to offer itself as a second home and place of Jewish learning. I look forward hearing from you!

Temple Beth Emet - Book Club

We have a wonderful Jewish Book Club at Temple!

Conducted by Fran Bourne-Johnson.

There will be no Book Club Meeting for the Month of July.

Where: Blum Hall at Temple Beth Emet of Burbank

When: Tuesday, August 28, 2018 7:00PM to 8:30 PM

What is the book we will read and discuss: Hitler In Los Angeles: How Jews Foiled Nazi Plots Against Hollywood and America by Steven J. Ross

Where to get the book: The book is available on Kindle, Amazon.com or Alibris, as well as local libraries. Please read the book and be prepared to discuss it.

Cost of Participating: Free!

Synopsis: The chilling, little-known story of the rise of Nazism in Los Angeles, and the Jewish leaders and spies they recruited who stopped it.

No American city was more important to the Nazis than Los Angeles, home to Hollywood, the greatest propaganda machine in the world. The Nazis plotted to kill the city's Jews and to sabotage the nation's military installations: plans existed for hanging twenty prominent Hollywood figures such as Al Jolson, Charlie Chaplin, and Samuel Goldwyn; for driving through Boyle Heights and machine-gunning as many Jews as possible; and for blowing up defense installations and seizing munitions from National Guard armories along the Pacific Coast.

U.S. law enforcement agencies were not paying close attention--preferring to monitor Reds rather than Nazis--and only Leon Lewis and his daring ring of spies stood in the way. From 1933 until the end of World War II, attorney Leon Lewis, the man Nazis would come to call "the most dangerous Jew in Los Angeles," ran a spy operation comprised of military veterans and their wives who infiltrated every Nazi and fascist group in Los Angeles. Often rising to leadership positions, this daring ring of spies uncovered and foiled the Nazi's disturbing plans for death and destruction.

Featuring a large cast of Nazis, undercover agents, and colorful supporting players, Hitler in Los Angeles, by acclaimed historian Steven J. Ross, tells the story of Lewis's daring spy network in a time when hate groups had moved from the margins to the mainstream.

The Book Club meets on the 4th Tuesday of every month. The group will discuss what the next book will be at the meeting, as well as the format of the discussion group.

You may contact Fran at franbourne@gmail.com or call her at (617) 306-3835.

Fran Bourne-Johnson is enthusiastically inviting you to attend. She will warmly welcome the readers and a lively discussion is expected. The book she is recommending is both exciting and interesting. What a great way to socialize AND improve your mind! Let's get together and share a great reading experience.
