"If you are altogether silent at this time, will relief and deliverance arise to the Jews from another place? Who knows? At this time you have come to the place of 'royalty'" (Book of Esther 4:14)

The above quote is usually taken to refer to G-d in Mordechai's frustration with Queen Esther's fears to help our people. She is more worried about how Ahasuerus will react if she goes to him unannounced. She also thought she would be free from death because she was the queen of Shushan (Persia). Both the positive and the negative feelings of Mordechai and Esther serve us here at Temple because we so strongly believe in the team spirit.

The past few days have been cold and rainy and, because I drive a lot from home to Temple, rather dangerous. Californians don't drive well in rain!

Every time when I go out the front door of Temple and see this beautiful green in our front yard I realize that we must have hope. Green has replaced brown, flowers have replaced bare stems, and weeds have replaced brown dirt. It makes me think about Temple and about Mordechai's words to Esther. But, G-d is not enough! Behaviors must come from us. We need to help each other and make the Temple better.

I am not sure Mordechai believed G-d would help; I think he was using Jewish guilt on Esther.

He had strong hopes she would come to her senses and speak to the King. She did help, showing great courage.

We need to help also. There are many things at Temple that need our doing. Money isn't enough, besides the joy you get when you are part of a team is greater than just giving cash. Don't mis-understand cash helps to do the things we can't. You don't want me fooling around with the air conditioner. But I believe people have talents they don't advertise. I have a friend who is a member of the Recording Academy, He also, for a while, was my barber. He is also a licensed plumber. Who knew? I believe that people have hidden talents that are waiting to be discovered. People also have potential to develop talents in areas they never thought of. I knew a person who became an art restorer. He learned many ways to bring paintings, sculptures and other works of art to life. What killed it for him was that his boss didn't pay him. To this day he still has a love for Art restoration!

I was reminded recently about a situation years ago at Services. In the days when I was Rabbi Kramer's assistant, we would do the Kiddush in the Sanctuary. A child was seated in the back who was shy and did not want to come up front to get some grape juice. The challah was done in Blum Hall. Rabbi said to me, "Go bring the grape juice to the little boy". I looked at him with the look of, "Why ? I am the Assistant Rabbi!" Rabbi said, "We will talk, later!" And talk we did! He reminded me that no job was too small to do if it benefitted the Temple. And, of course, no one is more beneficial to the Temple than a child.

Helping the Temple really means helping others. The more restored the Temple is the more people's confidence in the Temple is restored. When you do for Temple you do for others. Also, I know when you do for others you gain royal feelings, because you have taken your G-d given attributes and altered someone's life.

But it is hard to get people to do the little things that are necessary to make the Big Thing (the Temple) to run. Don't feel singled out! The Rabbis in Pirke Avot said it too. "Be as careful with a minor mitzvah as with a major one, for you cannot know the rewards of the mitzvah." (2:1) We need help! We want to improve the Temple and there are jobs that need to be done that are mundane, and thankless, but necessary. Let's do them together.

I am not going to guilt you like Mordechai. I know you will show courage and we will repair the Temple. Let us work together to save our Temple and hence the small part of our people known as Temple Beth Emet. As Esther and Mordechai showed courage to rescue our people in ancient Shushan, let us do the same in modern Burbank.

B'ahava,

Rabbi Mark

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE – March 2019

The previous editor of the Chai Times, Barbara Lux, often had to push me to get my column in. She would send me an email asking if I was going to get her something or should she just re-run a previous column. That was enough to break my writer's block. I think I've only re-run a column once, and that was because it was particularly relevant.

I'm going to run the better part of my March 2014 column, but with a new ending:

Daylight Savings Time begins this year on March 10, (date corrected) when we advance our clocks one hour. Many of us bemoan the fact that we are "losing" an hour of sleep that day, but I think we should instead look at what we gain during Daylight Savings Time.

We gain an extra hour of sunlight at the end of our workday. For those of us who work regular hours, that means it won't be dark when it is time to head home. When we get home, there is still daylight to enjoy some extra time outdoors with the children, in the garden (hint: it's time to plant tomatoes), or maybe a stroll in the neighborhood.

With March comes spring, and with spring comes renewal and deliverance from the darkness of winter. We celebrate this deliverance first this month with Purim, being the deliverance of a community, and next month with Passover, being the deliverance of our people. In both stories, our people were not merely the beneficiaries of the efforts of others. In Purim, after Esther and Mordecai foil the plans of Haman, the Jews of Persia had to stand up and fight their enemies, as the earlier royal decree allowing for the destruction of the Jews could not be countermanded, an additional decree was issued allowing the Jews to defend themselves. In Passover, the Israelites had to stand up, pack up, and leave everything familiar to them and march out into the desert. In neither case was success assured until the people took action.

Here at Temple Beth Emet our survival as a community also depends on the actions of all of our people, not just Rabbi Mark or the Temple lay leadership. Just as the Jews of Persia had to answer the call of Esther and Mordecai, just as the Israelites had to answer the call of God and His prophet Moses, the people of the Temple Beth Emet family need to answer the call to support the Temple with their "wisdom, wampum, or work."

So here is the new ending:

Most of us remember George Davis and know how important Temple Beth Emet was to him. We know George was a talented woodworker, and worked his magic to turn an old drafting table into a beautiful and unique Torah reading table. Not content with that, he also crafted the Cantor's podium and a Torah stand. The Davis family has continued giving to the Temple in many ways. The family made a gift of matching funds during the High Holiday appeal, and George's son Phil has become involved in Temple life, including taking on some much needed repairs.

Last month, he tackled a folding divider in Blum Hall that was falling apart. Since it was beyond repair, it was decided that one of the other dividers that we never use would be swapped with the damaged divider. These things are very heavy, so a crew of volunteers was assembled and together the job was done. The next task to be conquered is to repair the lights in Blum Hall.

Hello Temple Family,

March is shaping up to be an eventful month: the kids have been learning about Esther, Mordecai, King Ahasuerus and the accursed Haman. We look forward to our annual Megillah reading planned for March 23rd, 6pm to 9pm. Please come, bring your kids in costume, eat and make a racket! Religious School children are also looking forward to the Purim Carnival, where kids wear costumes and play games to win prizes. Kids, remember that wearing a costume and bringing canned goods for Beth Emet's food pantry donations will garner you extra game tickets! Older children setup and run the games. It will be great fun!

Remember this Friday, March 1st, the Junior Choir will be performing. Junior Choir meets after Religious School every Sunday, and they've been working hard. It is also pizza night, so please come, have pizza and enjoy the Junior Choir's performance along with Shabbat services! Pizza starts at 6pm and Family Shabbat Services start at 7pm.

At our last RSPA meeting, we heard about Beth Emet's involvement in Family Promise. Susie Berman kindly filled in for Jeanie, who was sick, but nevertheless prepared an excellent hand-out for the program and was with us in spirit. Kathy also attended to answer questions and share her experiences with Family Promise. A big thank-you to Jeannie, Susie and Kathy for telling us about Family Promise! I also want to thank the parents for their patience when we hit technical difficulties and slowness with our video presentation. We hope to increase our involvement in the program, and the parents at our meeting agreed to take an evening to provide food one night for Beth Emet's March rotation, which is the week of March 31st!

Temple readers, as you each channel your own personal Marie Kondo and begin to declutter, we hope you will toss items into box and set it aside for Sisterhood's annual Temple yard sale. Those old clothes, toys, books and household items can be sold to support the Temple! And if you love a good bargain, keep your eyes peeled for the details. I will send out email when we're ready to collect items for the sale.

Finally, our next religious school parent meeting is scheduled for Sunday, March 10th at 9:00 am in Blum Hall, March 10th at 9:00 am, after Rabbi's announcements to the kids.

Dear Temple Family,

Less than three years ago I drove to Burbank – not to Ikea or the airport, the only two places in Burbank I, myself, had ever driven to but to Temple Beth Emet. I met with Rabbi Mark and the board president and vice president, Ira Goldstein and David Goldstein (no relation), to talk about a preschool they dreamed of starting. After three meetings, we decided the timing was right and we'd give it a try. My first phone call was to Hayley, who was here from day 1 and whom I wouldn't consider starting a school without. As we grew, we were fortunate enough to bring in Gina, Vanessa, Nika and Carley. I feel so blessed to have been able to spend my days with a great team, children that made me smile and kept me "young", and wonderful parents who are devoted to their children and dedicated to our young school.

Although I love what I do and the community I get to work and play with, the time has come for me to pass this director's torch on to someone else. I will be retiring (again) at the end of this school year. My husband will also be retiring this summer, or at least cutting way back on his work schedule, so there will be some travelling in our future that won't have to be during peak seasons. That's something we're both looking forward to. Some of you may be wondering why I'm choosing to tell you via email and not in person...simple - I cry easily.

At this point the Temple search committee is in the process of interviewing candidates. I have no doubt they are searching for someone with a passion and desire for this preschool to grow and flourish. I am not involved in that process so I refer you Victoria at (818) 843-4787 or office@templebethemet.com and she will put you in touch with the right person to answer any questions you may have .

I am not a person that is good with good-byes so I will remind you of three things...

- I'm not leaving until June
- preschool parents, you have my cell phone number, please don't hesitate to call; and
- treasure these years...they really do go by quickly!

Shabbat Shalom,

Elaine

There is always something that needs to be done at Temple -- something simple as changing a light, something more involved like moving a divider, something creative like editing the Chai Times or designing a flyer.

As Rabbi Mark writes in his column this month, "people have talents they don't advertise." He also reminds us that "when you do for others you gain royal feelings, because you have taken your G-d given attributes and altered someone's life."

Rabbi Mark concluded by stating "I am not going to guilt you like Mordechai." Well, I am not above laying on some Jewish guilt for the good of Temple Beth Emet. To paraphrase from the Book of Esther, who knows but that you have been given your special gift for such a time as this?

We will celebrate Purim at Temple on Saturday, March 23. Our Sisterhood potluck dinner is at 6:00 PM and our multilingual Meghilah reading at 7:00 PM. There will be food, fun, costumes, groggers, and more food. It will be a lot of fun and we hope you will join us. While you are here, take a look around, and hopefully you will see something that needs to be done at Temple and say, "I can do that!"

Hag Purim Sameach!

JEWS WITH TOOLS! THANK YOU FOR YOUR HARD WORK!

WE DID IT!

Phil Davis, Ken Watnick, Marc Diamond, Michael Speck, Rabbi Mark, Joshua Sobel, Donna Diamond, Ethan Wertlieb, Jessica Wertlieb

The Sisterhood of Temple Beth Emet would like to take this opportunity to thank Victoria Gaffney for all the help she has given the Temple and the Sisterhood. Victoria is the silent force who gets things done for all of us. In addition to her job as office manager, she often buys the food and sets up for the weekly Onegs. She recently took care of the preparations for the luncheon following Morrie Bolter's funeral. She also helps out with the Bar and Bat Mitzvahs. She does much more. We count on her. Many thanks, Victoria. We couldn't do it without you.

The Sisterhood has been busy. Eileen Martin, with the help of Cherie Rye and her son took charge of the Temple Movie Night. We all had a great time! Thank you Eileen and Cherie.

The Sisterhood with support from the Religious School Parent's Association will be providing a Purim dinner, Saturday, March 23 at 6:00. The Rabbi has volunteered to provide some Mediterranean food. Dinner will be Dairy. If you would like to bring a dish, contact Eileen Martin at 818-763-1952. Call the office to make reservations.

Other upcoming events include a Passover style dinner, on Saturday, April 27 at 6:30. More about that next month.

The Sisterhood will be holding its annual "Jewish Woman of Interest" luncheon on Sunday, May 5 at 1:00. Our featured speaker will be Andrea Bolter, Barbara Bolter's daughter, who is an author and writes Romances. If you would like a signed copy of one of her books, you can purchase a copy on Amazon and bring it with you for her to sign. Her first book is "Her New York Billionaire". The luncheon is for Sisterhood members and their guests. Thank you Lucy Berman for all your help with this project.

We continue to support Family Promise. Our next Family Promise commitment is the week of March 31. The Sisterhood will provide dinner Wednesday, April 3. Susie Berman is our liaison. Thank you Susie!

Our annual Parking Lot sale is Sunday, April 7. Anyone who would like to donate items can bring them to the Temple beginning Sunday, March 31 after religious school up until the night before the sale. The Sisterhood will be selling hotdogs fresh from the grill. Phil Berman is cooking. Marlene Dreyfuss will play her accordion and we may have other entertainment. Please plan on joining us. The sale starts early. The time will be in the next Chai Times, as well as additional information.

We welcome new Sisterhood members Kathy Kreyns and Joanne Serin. We encourage all of you to come to our meetings, talk with us, and join. We'd love to have you!

Thanks to all the Sisterhood members who contribute their time and energy to make the Sisterhood a vibrant, active part of the Temple.

Regards,

Fran Bourne Johnson

Do You Have a Son and/or Daughter In College?

Temple Beth Emet has started a program to connect with our students attending a College. We would like to help them to continue their Jewish way of life and offer them additional support. This way, they will always have an open line of communication with our Rabbi, should they have questions or need direction; and we will remind them of their link to Israel and to keep connected to the Jewish Community. After college, we hope to have them join our Temple, as an adult.

Please send an e-mail and give me the following information:

The name of the Student;

Class Level;

Address;

Name of the University, and;

If the Student is a member of any organization or club on campus.

The Temple will send a care-package for each holiday, as a gift to the Student with a calendar of events at the Temple for each month. The Student will be invited to all events sponsored by the Temple. We would like to encourage the Student to return to the Temple as often as they wish; as the Temple would like to offer itself as a second home and place of Jewish learning. I look forward hearing from you!

I want to thank everyone who came to our movie night to see "Radio Days". Everyone really seemed to like the movie and had a good time.

I especially want to thank Sherry Rye. She and her son were such troupers. They brought the equipment and set it up to show the movie. Can't thank you enough for everything. Literally couldn't have had the movie without you guys.

Also, thanks to Iris Abrams for the goodies for after the movie.

Thanks to these wonderful people we didn't spend any money and collected over $200. A great evening. We hope to have another movie night soon. Look for our flyers.

What is the book we will read and discuss: The Family: Three Journeys into the Heart of the Twentieth Century, by David Laskin

Every writer, established or aspiring, has at one time or another looked around and decided, "My life would make a great book." Some of them are sadly mistaken. But journalist David Laskin's life--or rather that of his forbears, three generations of a Russian Jewish family originally named HaKoen--has made a fantastic book. Despite its name, The Family is not about the Mafia, or the Mansons, but really about one particular, ordinary/extraordinary twentieth century shtetl clan. But you don't have to be Jewish to be fascinated by the six children of a Torah scribe on the western fringe of the Russian empire; they, like people everywhere, were buffeted by political and social and economic upheavals of their times. One branch of the family ended up in America as the prosperous founders of Maidenform lingerie; another repatriated to Israel; the third suffered the Holocaust. While I tended to favor the stories about the American branch (how can you not love a 4' 11" Russian revolutionary, who, with her husband Wolf, invented the brassiere in 1924 and got filthy rich in ladies underwear in the depression?), the other HaKoens-turned-Cohens provided plenty of educational entertainment as well. You think you know about the Russian revolution? Try seeing it through Laskin's ancestors' eyes. Likewise, WWII and Zionism. This is a great, big-hearted book about how time and place modifies family, whatever or wherever its roots

Where to get the book: The book is available on Kindle, Amazon.com or Alibris, as well as local libraries. Please read the book and be prepared to discuss it.

Cost of Participating: Free!

CREATE A LASTING LEGACY

Planned Giving is a wonderful and loving way to ensure the legacy of Temple Beth Emet of Burbank and future generations. Planned Giving can be as simple as a bequest or a more complex financial arrangement which can provide many options and possible tax deductions for the donor.

Speak with your legal and financial advisors as to the best way to structure your wills and estate planning to include the Temple in your current and future plans.

Information on Planned Giving can also be found on our website at:

ADULT EDUCATION SERIES

2018 - 2019

Presented By Rabbi MARK H. SOBEL

JEWS IN AMERICA

How the Jews in America have “made it.”

How America has made them.

How they have made America.

March 12

THE 20TH CENTURY EXPERIENCE

1925-2000

All sessions begin at 7:00 PM—Open to the public.

There is no charge for this series, donations accepted.

We are starting a B'Nei Mitzvah Adult Class on December 1, 2018 please contact the office for more information and to sign up.

Beginning January 15, 2019, we will be offering an Adult Education Day Class, please contact the office for more information and to sign up.

There has been interest in our next ISRAEL TRIP. While we are not planning a trip in 2019, if there enough interest, 2020 may be a possibility..
