"With Charity toward all and malice toward none"

(Abraham Lincoln's Inaugural address 1865)

February is a most interesting month for me both as an American and as a Jew. We remember all presidents with a holiday and two, especially, WITH OUR HEARTS, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. Recently, I finished a book about President Washington which spoke about his views on religion and the Constitution, which were very different than what we view as the beliefs of the founding fathers. He sought a pivotal place for religion, all religions, in America. In fact, if you read the First Amendment to the Constitution, it reads, "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof," meaning we have full freedom to exercise our religion freely, wherever and whenever we want, except if it interferes with others' religion.

Abraham Lincoln showed his understanding of the First Amendment, when General Ulysses Grant, commander of the Union forces in the western theater, Vicksburg and environs, expelled the first Jewish Chaplain in the US Armed Forces, and President Lincoln overruled him and had Rabbi Jacob Frankel reinstated. But President Lincoln's assistance to our people wasn't the extent of his belief in the sacredness of all humanity. He saw how anger and revenge go hand in hand. I don't know how but he must have been aware of the teachings of the MI Camokha in the Midrash where G-d tells our people that we are not to be gleeful over the deaths the Egyptians at the Reed Sea but to only be grateful for G-d to have saved us and given us freedom.

President Lincoln knew how the anger and despair of the War Between the States would tear not only states and the country in general but also, whole families. Therefore in his inauguration he wrote those words

"With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in, ...to care for him who shall have borne the battle... to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves."

We are engaged in battle every day with external forces who strive to wipe us out and internal forces who seek to destroy the community we have built.

We need to keep combatting both those adversaries while striving for peace with all.

Let us use the meaning of Tu B'Shvat, the New Year of Trees, as a guide for our behaviors, with each other and for our community. At Tu B'Shvat we plant seeds that will bear fruit. I am reminded of two anecdotes that express Judaism's belief in the power of planting seeds. "Once an old man was planting a fig tree. Fig trees have a long gestation period. Another man came by and said. 'Why are you bothering to plant the tree, you will never see its fruit?' The planter replied. 'The tree is not for me, it is for my grandchildren!'"

We plant now for the future, the works we do as a community together will bear fruit in the future. Also, it matters NOT who does the planting of seeds or ideas, as long as we all volunteer to nurture and care for the seedlings. Bringing life into the world is a communal activity. No bosses, no servants just people giving what they can give to give life!

The second merely states, 'If you are planting a tree and someone tells you the Messiah has come (heralding G-d's time on Earth) continue planting the tree'. Interesting, our faith leaders have decreed that the planting and caring for trees is more important than fulfilling G-d's promise.

How could that be? Perhaps they understood that when you take part in the creating of life you then can lay claim to the purest form of divinity, Creation, because G-d's first acts were to create living entities on this earth, and you are imitating G-d's first and primary actions. Remember, only G-d knows what is in G-d's image! Certainly not us mere mortals . So keep creating with your friends, relatives and significant others.

B'ahava, and with Tzadakah for all,

Rabbi Mark

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE - February 2020

Who has the next great idea for Temple Beth Emet? This month we are trying something new with a "Meet 'N Greet" organized by Jay Geisenheimer, our Ways and Means Chair. The event will be Saturday, February 15 from 6:00 to 10:00 PM. It will feature finger food, some beer and wine, a silent auction, and an opportunity to meet notable of our city government, neighbors, and other Temple Members. I hope many of you plan on attending and bringing friends to discover our Temple. We hope to raise some money, but we also hope to raise awareness in the community of who we are and what we have to offer. Please let Victoria in the office know if you will be joining us so we can make sure to have enough food and drink.

We have not done something like this before. It is a new idea, and some board members are rather skeptical about it, while others are enthusiastic. Still others were not sure, but were willing to try something new.

That is always the way it is with new ideas. It is never clear that something we are going to do will benefit the Temple and find favor with its membership. When we decided to start the preschool, some were sure we would be getting in over our head. It has turned out to be a great success and has developed a terrific reputation. When Barbara Bolter suggested Pizza Night I thought it was a crazy idea, but it turned out to be a great way to bring together the younger and more tenured members of the Temple family. Last month we instituted a monthly honor-a-member Shabbat, and it looks like another success.

On the other hand, some of the things we have tried have not worked. When we came into a large number of Conservative High Holiday prayer books, we thought it might be a way to provide a more complete understanding of the liturgy. Our community, quite frankly, hated it and let us know. We found a new home for those books. Some events we have tried have drawn little interest, or even none at all!

Sometimes someone will suggest something that had been tried before and were not successful or practical. Our Passover Community Seder is such an event. When it was first proposed, some on the board pointed out that we used to have a Passover Seder, but it had become too expensive and people stopped coming. Even the preschool had a couple of false starts. Just because we tried something before and it did not work out does not mean we should not take another look at the idea.

The point is, we need to keep trying new things because you never know what the next great idea will be. You never know where the next great idea will come from, either, but usually it does not come from the board or staff. It comes from you, the Temple community. It comes from your inspiration and vision. It comes from your observation of something done somewhere else. It even comes from your exasperation. Once, someone came to a board meeting to say he was leaving the Temple because we were not meeting the memberships' needs. "You do not even have a singles group! You need a singles group for all ages!" We told him he could be in charge of forming one, and he did! He stayed, even served as Temple President. He met someone in the group and got married.

We need to keep trying new things. We need your ideas. We need you to tell us what our Temple is missing, how we can get our Temple family more involved, how we can attract more people to our family.

We might just fall in love with your idea. We might need some convincing. We might even need you to take charge of your idea. But we need your idea. You can come to a board meeting or send an email to the office.

How about this -- come to the Meet 'N Greet on February 15. Let's get together and talk about your "next great idea" for Temple Beth Emet.

-- IRA L. GOLDSTEIN, President

Sponsoring an Oneg Shabbat is a wonderful way to honor or celebrate an event -- Bar Mitzvahs, anniversaries, remembrance, simcha, or simply because it's Shabbat! We try not to make this process complicated, so if you would like to sponsor an oneg, call the Temple office at (818) 843-4787!

Religious School is back in session after Winter Break. Lots of learning goes on Sunday mornings at TBE!

This past month our littlest learners have thoroughly enjoyed the fruits (and vegetables) of their labor. Our garden is in full bloom and the children have had the opportunity to try various crops in a salad, smoothie and just as they come! Our master gardener comes weekly to inspire our preschoolers to learn all about the wonderful world of gardening. Through music, games, and hands-on exploration, the children love every moment of this amazing program!

We have a few spots left in the preschool for this year, so if you know anyone looking...send them our way! :)

Do You Have a Son and/or Daughter In College?

Temple Beth Emet has started a program to connect with our students attending a College. We would like to help them to continue their Jewish way of life and offer them additional support. This way, they will always have an open line of communication with our Rabbi, should they have questions or need direction; and we will remind them of their link to Israel and to keep connected to the Jewish Community. After college, we hope to have them join our Temple, as an adult.

Please send an e-mail to office@templebethemet.com and give the following information:

The name of the Student;
Class Level;
Address;
Name of the University, and;
If the Student is a member of any organization or club on campus.

The Temple will send a care-package for each holiday, as a gift to the Student with a calendar of events at the Temple for each month. The Student will be invited to all events sponsored by the Temple. We would like to encourage the Student to return to the Temple as often as they wish; as the Temple would like to offer itself as a second home and place of Jewish learning. We look forward hearing from you!

You can support Temple Beth Emet with a contribution to our ongoing gofundme™ campaign. Your generosity will help us maintain and improve our facilities and help with our outreach and membership development programs.
