"To continue boldly going where no one else's Temple has gone ...even to home" (apologies to Star Trek)

In a few days we will have our first in house Shabbat Service in over a year. It will be fantastic to be together again. So much better than cyber love. Because the pandemic is not completely eradicated there will be some restrictions. Friends who love Temple Beth Emet have worked very hard to get us ready and make for the comfortable home our "house of Truth" has always been. The rules will be listed elsewhere in this Chai Times.

Later on in the month is Shavuoth, the holiday of the giving of the Ten Commandments literally and extended to the entire Torah in Orthodox circles. Shavuoth literally means "weeks" because this holiday comes 7 weeks after Passover. Shavuah, the singular of Shavuoth is the Hebrew word for 7, the days of the week. Seven, as in the days of Creation, is the symbolic number for creation. So the Festival of Weeks actually means 7 creations. The concept of creation brings us to the question, what have we created? In the ancient Temple on Shavuoth First Fruits of animal and vegetable were brought to the Temple for the congregation to see as evidences of creation.

We, can look at what our first fruits for this year of quarantine have brought. For sure, we as a congregation, have greater computer knowledge or at least Zoom knowledge. But more importantly we have a greater knowledge of who we are as people, as Jews and as Americans. We know we can work together and support each other. . We know we can do creative things. We bring both different ideas and ideologies together.

I really hope, that we continue to enjoy Lunch With the Rabbi, I know I do! The teachers have created a bond with the students that has borne the fruit of great knowledge of Hebrew and Jewish History as well as the delicious taste and flavor of teacher student rapport. Out of our enrollment of almost 30 students only two students left due to Zoom boredom. Our teachers made the program, interesting and fun for them. The created fruit, for me personally, was my greater respect for what our students go through as they prepare for Bar and Bat Mitzvahs. Their commitment to their Judaism is very strongly evidenced by how hard they practice and want to be a part of the planning of their ceremonies. Questions, questions, questions! Students, always remember! the ONLY dumb question is the one that's not asked!

But the most important creation of this pandemic year has been the ripe fruit of volunteerism on the part of our congregants, both for the congregation and to other need groups. We planted a multi-talented musical, audio, video crop at Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur that led us to a bumper crop of attendance at Hanukkah and Purim. Our Shabbat Services on Zoom and You Tube have help to flower into great views from people in other states. Instead of leaving the Judaic ground fallow as did some houses of worship we made sure our Temple blossomed and left the heady fragrance of commitment to our congregation, country and our people, fertile and vibrant. The seeds continue to bear fruit and are a nourishment to all. May that nourishment continue to energize and stimulate as pure organic food always does when it is replanted in our sanctuary!

B'ahava and Hag Sameach,
Rabbi Mark

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE - May 2021

In the Saturday's Los Angeles Times there is a weekly feature L.A. Affairs. It features an essay from a brave contributor chronicling their experience in the dating scene in Los Angeles. Of course, there are several different dating scenes in our area depending on your age, history, sexual identity, and other factors. I can usually tell from the first couple of paragraphs how the writer's experience will end. Sometimes it concludes with a "happily ever after" story, sometimes a train wreck, sometimes the writer emerges battered and bruised but wiser. After reading these essays I generally say "I am so glad I'm not single."

A recurring theme is this: What starts out seeming to be a perfect match often does not turn out to be so and it is usually better to break off a doomed relationship sooner rather than later.

Such is the case with our recent hire of a new office manager. After the interview, we thought we had found the perfect person, but as is often the case with new love, soon it became obvious this was not going to be a good fit for either of us. Each of our expectations of the other were obviously misplaced and we parted ways in early April.

This leaves us in the difficult position of having your Temple President, Treasurer, and Secretary struggling to come to grips with learning Quickbooks for membership billing, banking, and bill paying. We have been consulting with Victoria, reading "For Dummies" books, and watching online videos, and we ask for your continued patience and understanding as we try to get things under control and turn our attention toward finding new staffing.

On a more positive note, this month we resume in-person Shabbat worship! Friday, May 7, will be our first Friday Night service with congregants since the pandemic shut us down last March. We are planning on live-streaming the service on our YouTube channel, and you can find the link on our website. You can also find the guidelines for attending services on page 4 of this issue, and on our website. Remember your masks!

Finally, I offer a heartfelt thanks and congratulations to Rabbi Mark, his Religious School faculty, our Religious School Parents Association, and its President Cherie Rye, our religious school parents, and especially our religious school students on a very challenging religious school term, which concludes this month. A former Temple Officer, Jim Mattis, of blessed memory, often said that anyone who brings a child to Temple Beth Emet for religious education has made a major contribution to our Temple. He could not have imagined how technology and creativity would enable our parents to "bring" students to us while staying at home. We look forward to resume in-person instruction this fall.

We hope all of you have either begun your vaccine regime or are planning on doing so soon. The sooner all of us are vaccinated, the sooner pandemic restrictions will ease and we can continue our progress toward a more normal life.

-- IRA L. GOLDSTEIN, President

Hello Temple Families,

As the school year and the Religious School year winds down, we're hopeful. CNN reports that Pfizer has petitioned the FDA for emergency use authorization of its vaccine for kids between the ages of twelve and fifteen. The rate of infection has continued to drop in Los Angeles. More of us are receiving vaccines and life seems to be creeping towards normal. We're not there yet, but much closer than we were last summer. Already, schools have opened for some in person instruction.

I asked my son how Religious School is going. "Good," he answered, typical of a teen his age. I prompted him for more details and learned that his bar/bat mitzvah class is learning the last prayer in their packet. With three weeks left of Religious School, he seems confident they will finish the entire packet. On Sunday mornings, I hear him and other students singing the prayers and reading from their text book, "Sedra Scenes." They have fun with it, getting into the characters for each other's benefit. The kids and their teachers have made the best of a difficult year.

LA County has lowered the age limit for vaccines to 16. Just in case anyone needs the information, this is excerpted from LA City Emergency Alerts:

- * All L.A. County residents age 16 years and older, regardless of immigration status are eligible.
- * No appointment needed. See below for locations.
- * Vaccine is free, no health insurance needed.
- * Pfizer, Moderna, and Johnson & Johnson available.
- * Updated website: <https://corona-virus.la/VaxAlert>

Hoping you and your families are well.

-- Cherie

Do You Have a Son and/or Daughter In College?

Temple Beth Emet has started a program to connect with our students attending a College. We would like to help them to continue their Jewish way of life and offer them additional support. This way, they will always have an open line of communication with our Rabbi, should they have questions or need direction; and we will remind them of their link to Israel and to keep connected to the Jewish Community. After college, we hope to have them join our Temple, as an adult.

Please send an e-mail to office@templebethemet.com and give the following information:

The name of the Student;
Class Level;
Address;
Name of the University, and;
If the Student is a member of any organization or club on campus.

The Temple will send a care-package for each holiday, as a gift to the Student with a calendar of events at the Temple for each month. The Student will be invited to all events sponsored by the Temple. We would like to encourage the Student to return to the Temple as often as they wish; as the Temple would like to offer itself as a second home and place of Jewish learning. We look forward hearing from you!

You can support Temple Beth Emet with a contribution to our ongoing gofundme™ campaign. Your generosity will help us maintain and improve our facilities and help with our outreach and membership development programs.
