Rabbi Says:

“Proclaim liberty throughout the land and to ALL the inhabitants thereof” (Engraved on the Liberty Bell Leviticus XXV)

As this month begins, I think of July 4th and what it means to us as Americans and as Jews. Yes it is our National Independence Day so we are free to rejoice, but I want us to look at the history of the Jews in America. Some names you may know but others may be new to you. Enjoy their stories both as Americans and as Jews.

Our ancestors came here in 1654 arriving from Brazil after it had been returned to the Portuguese by the Dutch. One of the first things Abraham de Lucena and the other leaders of that band of travelers did was to petition Governor Peter Stuyvesant for equal rights and Responsibilities: “to bear arms in the defense of the settlement of New Amsterdam”. After some debate, their wishes were granted and the small Jewish community took its rightful place on the parapets of New Amsterdam. As America grew so did its Jewish population. Jews came from all over Europe and settled in the cities of New York, Philadelphia, Newport, Rhode Island and interestingly enough, Savannah, Georgia (where they raised cattle, yes there have always been Jewish cow boys). When it became time for America to separate from the mother country, we Jews were there. The first casualty to fall in the War for Independence was a young Jewish man from South Carolina, Francis Salvador, who was killed protecting settlers in the western part of that state. As you well know, we gained our independence after a long and costly war in 1783.

President's message

Although this month we commemorate the Jewish holiday Tisha B'Av, which is the saddest day on the Jewish calendar because of the incredible series of tragedies which occurred on that date throughout Jewish History, I can't help but feel gratitude for the two great honors that have been bestowed upon me this month...my daughter Allison's Bat Mitzvah and becoming President of the synagogue with a heart. As Jews the best thing we can do when faced with adversity is find ways we can honor and appreciate life and of course find humor.

Being the temple with a heart we need to focus on the positive. We need to be different and we need to grow. I am asking all congregants to help us achieve our goals. We all need to give back in any way we can...Tikkun Olam. Ways we can give could be volunteering in the classrooms, attending services, donating to the Oneg and of course there is always tzedakah.

What I really liked about Shabbat Across America was how we, as a synagogue, came together to create a real sense of community. We have just elected a new board, one that is full of vibrancy and enthusiasm. This year let's all work together to continue to increase the membership by utilizing diverse programming ideas. I hope everyone feels comfortable expressing any ideas they might have.

I am very much looking forward to joining all of you in doing all we can to make sure that our "temple with a heart" not only continues to beat but beat stronger than it ever has.

We began to grow, the Louisiana Purchase would triple our size, and people came to us from all walks of life. Not all of them worked like Francis Salvador as a farmer or Adam Gimbel as a peddler who built a business empire, famous throughout the United States. One Jewish immigrant to the United States was a pirate. His name was Jean Lafitte and he built a pirate base along the Mississippi Delta south of New Orleans at a place called Barrataria. This was good for Captain Lafitte, good for America and ultimately bad for Great Britain, who never really got over losing its colonies to a bunch of upstarts and backwoods-men. In early 1814, a British fleet appeared at Barrataria and after offering terms to captain Lafitte and hearing his refusal, on the grounds that he wanted to be a free man, sacked and burned Lafitte's home. But it was too late; Lafitte had already agreed to join the new nation. And so he did. His men helped General Andrew Jackson defend New Orleans and end the British threat forever.

The next major threat to New Orleans and the rest of the country was, of course the Civil war. Jews were involved on both sides. Judah P. Benjamin became the first Secretary of State of an American Government ever, he served the Confederacy. And while there are no official records of Jews serving in the United States government at that time, there are questions and discussions about President Lincoln's faith that are easily as long as his beard. But there is a first for Jews on the Union side. The first man to serve as a Jewish Military chaplain was Mr. Michael Allen with the 5th Pennsylvania Cavalry. He was replaced a year later by Rabbi Arnold Fishel. Even here there is controversy. Some consider Rabbi Jacob Frankel the first official Jewish chaplain.

There were Jewish Rough riders, more Jewish cow boys, and then there was Sam Dreben. Sam Dreben was a cousin to our own Louise Haines, may she rest in peace, and she never let me forget he had more medals than Sgt. York, but never got Gary Cooper to portray him. Sam Dreben, though, will be best remembered as a man who stood for freedom on both sides of the border as he fought for the US in World War I and also with Pancho Villa.

These were men with very different backgrounds, stories to tell and occupations. So, what did they have in common? A belief in freedom as spoken by the Declaration of Independence,

Our happiness is because they pursued liberty. Therefore, it is our duty to preserve what they stood up for and what America stands for. All people, no matter how unique, have the right to pursue life and seek happiness. Have a happy and unique Fourth of July.

Last Day of School

What I liked about Religious School

By Second and Third Grade

I liked everything this year. I really liked that I made some new friends. I liked that we got chocolate if we were good enough. We got to do some fun writing just like this. We played a lot of games like Hangman and some games in music. We go to draw pictures of whatever we wanted sometimes. I studied and learned about the plagues and the ten commandments. We read a lot of stories too. I had a lot of fun.

Jack McKinnon

I love Hebrew school so I want it to be my real school. The thing I love best is that we are practicing praying and that we watched a video one time. One time me and Sarah drew on the board and nobody else was there too. It was really fun too. We all made a card for Mother's Day. And that's why I love Hebrew school!

Noreen Fisher

I love everything I did at my Hebrew school. We studied Jewish history. We watched some tapes and we answered Ms. Roni's questions. We played games. We studied the prayers. My most favorite game was when we played a marble game.

Jason Glass

My favorite thing I did in Hebrew school was when we saw a movie. It was about Adam and Eve and all the animals. After that we were answering some questions. I was very happy when we prayed and played music. We read books and Hebrew stories.

Family Promise will be here soon. Temple Beth Emet and St. Jude's are partners in the East Valley Chapter of Family Promise. At the end of July, St. Jude's and Temple Beth Emet will host four families for a week at St. Jude's. There three ways WE can help:

- 1) Donate your unused sample (hotel size) soap, shampoo, body lotion, etc, to be put in gift boxes for these needy families.
- 2) I would like to see Temple Beth Emet provide Kosher meals for the four families (maximum of 14 parents and children plus any staff), for one day. Possiblys modified Men's Club style breakfast and a BBQ dinner on Saturday, July 31st.
- 3) Small cash donations for last minute fresh food purchases.

Please contact Jerry Engelberg at 1-818-216-3756 or Debby at St. Jude's 1-818-842-7461.

Basic information on Family Promise: A host group will provide breakfast, whereupon the four families will then go to a counseling center during the day and return to the host group for dinner, relaxation and a place to sleep. The process will continue for one week. Family Promise has a VERY high success rate in helping deserving families, BUT..... they need your support.

Calif. Assembly passes ban on single-use bags: Senate vote is next

By Mike Verespej
Posted June 3, 2010

SACRAMENTO, CALIF. (June 3, 8:40 a.m. ET) -- With no margin to spare, the California Assembly has passed a bill that would ban all single-use disposable carryout bags, including plastic bags, bio-based compostable and biodegradable bags, and paper bags with less than 40 percent recycled content.

It is expected to pass the state senate and the Governor is expected to sign the bill, banning single-use disposal bags starting Jan. 1, 2012, at supermarkets and retailers with more than 10,000 square feet that have a pharmacy. The ban would be extended to convenience stores, food marts and other small retailers, starting July 1, 2013.

THE MINUTEMAN

They came from the cities and the farms, heading the call to arms as the Militia was summoned to resist the forces that threatened their freedom. Leaving wife and family, they were to give their all, bearing untold hardship in the name of independence.

It was the Minuteman who responded to the call to confront the British at Lexington on April 19, 1775, when the first shot was fired to signal the beginning of the Revolutionary War. This event was to be recorded as “the shot heard around the world.”

What is an Oneg ?

An Oneg is a small bite for about 35 people and occurs after services. It is a time when we have a chance to slow down, and catch up on the weekly events with our fellow congregants.

How to Sponsor an Oneg Shabbat

Hosting an Oneg is not only a Mitzvah but also a way for you to celebrate an event in your family and share the good news with the congregation. Think of hosting to commemorate birthdays, anniversaries, engagements, awards, graduations, victories and other happy occasions. Of course providing an Oneg is its own reward for providing enjoyment for congregants after services and your Simcha is mentioned during the announcements.

The main responsibility for the sponsors is to buy or prepare foods and beverages for the Oneg. You can Sponsor an Oneg in two ways:

1. You can provide the food yourself, or
2. You can make a $100 donation to the Temple and the Volunteer Shopper will do the shopping on your behalf
